The US Supreme Court handed the cabal to their impending complete destruction by not hearing the case lodged by Texas and some 20 other states because this allowed the Biden campaign to proceed to be voted in the Electoral College. This ended the election process and can be correctly proven to be insurrection. If the US Supreme Court stopped the election process and hand to President Trump the victory, the Biden campaign can only be charged with attempted insurrection.

When insurrection is under way, the US President has the authority to put it down with the military, even striking first. If the enemy is only attempting to do so, using the military may be a problem.

President Trump has already got all the pieces in place. The Executive Order to allow federal workers an extra holiday on 24th December except for those required to remain on duty for national security purposes mean they will reduce the chances of public servants being caught in the crossfire. The Executive Order 13838 allows for the asset freezes of all associated with illegal activities conducted during the election process, thereby clipping the wings and claws of their enemy as they have paid rioters and are allies out of convenience.

In his confirmation hearing, Judge Kavanaugh was asked by the Senate Judiciary Committee Chair Lindsay Graham about a military case whereby Kavanaugh correctly confirmed that it was part of the US law to treat any citizen partaking in insurrection as enemy combatants. Thus, that is why SCOTUS steered clear of the Texas case. They were not here to stop an election being taken away, but they were going to force these people to be treated as enemy combatants and put down for good.

The days ahead for the US will be one of chaos, but do not fear. Those who have committed much evil and think themselves to have gotten away with it are already marked for judgment. Their demise is certain.

Jeff Sessions is a white hat, Rosenstein is a white hat, Mueller is a white hat, Barr is a white hat... face reality and fight play the cards you have been dealed instead of forming new "trust the plan" theories. This is why I believe Q is a swamp damage control project, keep the populace behind their computer screens retweeting hashtags and trusting the plan until it is too late. Not FEDposting right now.

it is not about Trump anymore, assassinating him now accomplishes nothing, if they wanted to do that it should have been about a week after he announced his run in 2015.

look into the dueling electors and pence and combine it with this. trump always gives them outs to do the right thing and tries to make it look like he exhausted every other possible option but they brought it on themselves. it helps make him not look like he's just being vengeful but didn't want to do the thing he ends up having to do

it's all theater, he's had this in the bag for a while now and just does dumb shit to keep the election fraud concept in everyone's mind. if he didn't do stuff like have crazy Rudy Giuliani and his bimbo blonde etc for the media to make fun of, the story of election fraud would be swept under the rug like hunter's laptops

he does this all the time. his goal has always been to get them to discredit and destroy themselves as a party and the media too etc. all the traitors basically. he could just win just like he could just engage the media up front but he ALWAYS lures them in with some kind of trap when he already has the win secured and gives them a week to hang themselves before he reveals his cards and they scramble to backtrack and contradict whatever they just spent a week being outraged about because it turns out their guy actually did it etc

CNN was believed by most people <2015 but no one believes CNN anymore. no one believes the DNC isn’t corrupt and didn’t fuck bernie over twice etc etc trump has completely destroyed their reputations and credibility by acting weak when he’s strong sun tzu style

he plays the buffoon because as long as they keep underestimating him they don’t think he’s playing chess and keep walking into traps. he wasn’t kidding when he said he was smarter than everyone else

but even then for him to not slip up and to keep his composure and take the slings & arrows and play the part of the bumbling oaf trolling them at just the right times and resisting pulling the trigger etc, that’s all amazing

it's not even a thing where some magic has to happen. people just don't understand the electoral process and the political checks & balances the founding fathers designed the system around. literally no one on the left online knows the dueling electors will make Pence decide the vote, and that when he chooses not to (cuz that's bad optics) it'll go to a state vote. ppl like vaush will be completely blindsided by it because they don't understand how the system works same with the EO, it's not imaginary it was filed 2 years ago and all the China stuff that's come to light shows very clearly that there was foreign collusion which the EO classifies them as war criminal traitors or whatever. it's just following the legal process, no magic dice rolling to pull it off. but it's a slow process especially to allow them to hang themselves. he gave them every chance to back out and not choose to cheat but they chose to cuz in 2018 Trump & crew let them get away with rigging the mid terms and they got cocky

if they had heard the cases etc it wouldn't have come to this but they cheated and allowed it to get here. it's like a con man where if you're honest you don't get conned but he relies on you to be greedy and deceitful and when you do then you walk into the trap and get conned

He's been constantly taken to court for ordering construction work done and just not paying for it, and he's lost a good number of those cases. The reason why he won the majority of those cases is because the contractors he hires can't afford the lawyers to go after him so drop it and write off the time, money and costs they spent working for him, and usually go bankrupt. The ones who COULD afford lawyers got their pound of flesh.

Guess what the satanist democrat globohomo world alliance has a lot of? Money and lawyers. He's drowning because he can't outspend them this time.

It's also known that another one of his main influences other than The Art of War is Norman Vincent Peale. Over the years he's probably developed a superhuman level of faith in himself whether people. Many business leaders have that quality. No matter what's going on around them, psychologically they're already in a place where the out come they want is reality, they've learned to drown it out. Whether that's "delusional" or not it does seem to be half the equation or even more.

People shilling against Trump at this point would be wise to take heed of the many warnings. The United States is in the midst of a declared national emergency and the threat from foreign actors is well established. Acting against the government at this time is aiding and abetting the enemy. Doing so forfeits your constitutional rights and redefines you as an enemy combatant. YOU WILL BE PROSECUTED ACCORDINGLY. Again, in a military court, berift of any previous constitutional protections. If you value your lives, you will cease all subversive activities immediately. This is war.

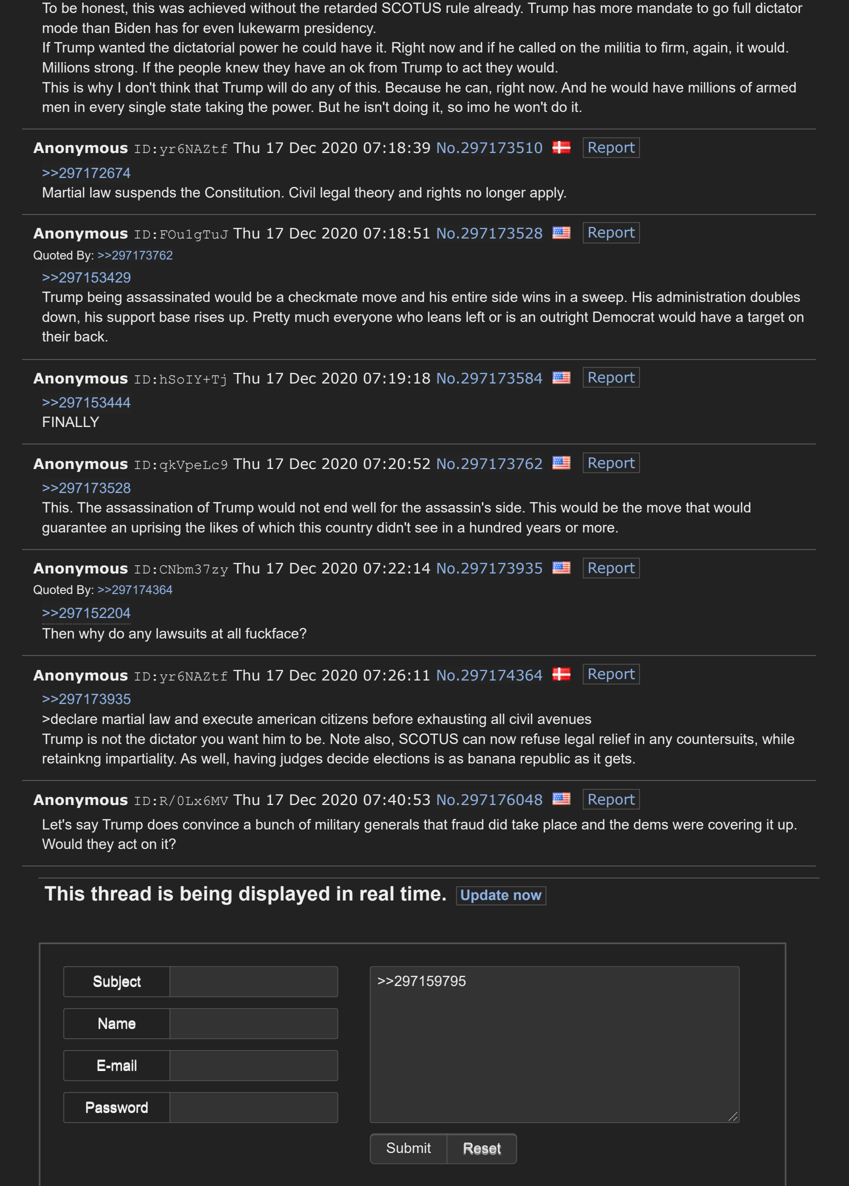
I don't believe in what's said in the OP but thus one is easy: political mandate, adding more of the support of the public but finishing the trust in the institution of SCOTUS. Showing Trump as a lone wolf surrounded by traitors.



To be honest, this was achieved without the retarded SCOTUS rule already. Trump has more mandate to go full dictator mode than Biden has for even lukewarm presidency.
If Trump wanted the dictatorial power he could have it. Right now and if he called on the militia to firm, again, it would. Millions strong. If the people knew they have an ok from Trump to act they would.
This is why I don't think that Trump will do any of this. Because he can, right now. And he would have millions of armed men in every single state taking the power. But he isn't doing it, so imo he won't do it.
